Cognitive Behavioral Therapy Book Reviews (CBTBR) is an online publication of the International Association for Cognitive Psychotherapy. We are excited to be able to provide clinicians with helpful, informative book reviews and the quickest possible media, the internet. Check back frequently to see what's new.

The IACP is dedicated to advancing material that merges theory, research, and practice and to develop new techniques by an examination of the clinical implications of theoretical developments and research findings. In addition we welcome the integration of cognitive psychotherapy with other systems of therapy. We intend for the books being reviewed to reflect those aims and to provide readers with the information needed to make informed decisions about the relevance of a particular title to their practice. Reviews are published of books, tapes, films, and other clinical resources.

To request a review:

Publishers should send two copies of such material to:

Submissions:

Manuscripts must be prepared according to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 5th edition, and must be typed double-spaced throughout including abstract, text quotation, and references, and tables. At the top of the review, include the name of the book, the author(s), publisher, publication date, number of pages, retail list price, soft/hard cover, and publisher website. Book reviews should include a brief abstract. Submissions should also include the article title; authors' names, degrees, and affiliations; and the complete mailing address, email address, and telephone number of the author designated to review proofs.

Contributors are responsible for all statements made in their manuscripts and for obtaining written permission from copyright owners for illustrations or lengthy quotes. Reviews are typically 3-10 pages and are expected within four months of receipt of the book. If a reviewer needs more flexibility with the review deadline or length, email Bradford C. Richards, Ph.D., ABPP at br@cogtherapy.com.
